Maker Space(s) is a flexible, participatory learning environment where Arlington Public Library (APL) patrons can utilize a variety of hands-on learning opportunities, gain access to the latest technology to encourage entrepreneurship and to help library patrons (Makers) to become more creative and empowered with new skills. The Arlington Public Library (APL) wants Makers of all sorts to be able to share the space and equipment with one another.

To achieve this goal, Makers must observe not only the library’s policies, but the additional guidelines and responsibilities listed here. Failure to do so may result in the revoking of Maker Space(s) privileges and/or library privileges as outlined in the APL Library’s Patron Behavior Expectations of Behavior.

Other than the equipment that can be reserved the items in Maker Space(s) are on a first come, first serve basis. Library staff has final say on any disagreement over the use of equipment.
- Makers may temporarily lose equipment access and require retraining on equipment if they: 1. cause the equipment to be out of service; 2. do not follow the equipment usage guidelines; 3. demonstrate a lack of the basic knowledge required to use the equipment.
